12 October 2016	ESC/16/46 The Impact of Procurement Policies on Small and Medium Businesses	To recommend that the Council ask MIDAS to consider how discussions with large investors could include consideration of their supply chain	MIDAS have provided the following response:- MIDAS make provision for opening up supply chains to SME's, most prominently through their Science and Innovation programme and their account management and aftercare programmes. Within the science and innovation programme, they bring some of the large FDI companies to the table to work with universities and SME's in the creation and commercialisation of new IP that meets their current needs. In terms of the account management and aftercare programmes, this is where they try to look at the required supply chain of the inward investor and connect local SMEs in to that supply chain where	Ian Brown, Head of Procurement

			possible. This may be done either by referral to the Business Growth Hub or through connecting them to specific sector network bodies such as BioNow or the like. Occasionally with particularly significant inward investors, they may run a meet the buyer event, normally in conjunction with the local authority, which is a good method for engaging local SMEs. Working in conjunction with the business growth hub and wider MGC companies, they also help to build SME's in to trade missions that they may be leading alongside the international trade function, with large firms at the helm. Staff from Midas also attended the event to launch The Council's Ethical Procurement Policy which had a focus on social value within our supply chain and they also work closely with Angela' and her team to maximise the benefits to our local communities.

2. Key Decisions

The Council is required to publish details of key decisions that will be taken at least 28 days before the decision is due to be taken. Details of key decisions that are due to be taken are published on a monthly basis in the Register of Key Decisions.

A key decision, as defined in the Council's Constitution is an executive decision, which is likely:

- To result in the Council incurring expenditure which is, or the making of savings which are, significant having regard to the Council's budget for the service or function to which the decision relates, or
- To be significant in terms of its effects on communities living or working in an area comprising two or more wards in the area of the city.

The Council Constitution defines 'significant' as being expenditure or savings (including the loss of income or capital receipts) in excess of £500k, providing that is not more than 10% of the gross operating expenditure for any budget heading in the in the Council's Revenue Budget Book, and subject to other defined exceptions.

An extract of the most recent Register of Key Decisions, published on 9 June 2017, containing details of the decisions under the Committee's remit is included below. This is to keep members informed of what decisions are being taken and, where appropriate, include in the work programme of the Committee.
