

Making Manchester Fairer Programme Board

● Joanne Roney OBE

sits on the Board in her role as the Chief Executive of Manchester City Council and the Senior Responsible Officer for Making Manchester Fairer

● Adil Mohammed Javed

is a Manchester-born actor turned social-entrepreneur, inspired by his experiences to drive change through creativity

● Katy Calvin-Thomas

is the Chief Executive of Manchester and Trafford Local Care Organisation

● Sinead O'Connor

is the Chief Executive of Cheetham Hill Advice Centre and believes that focusing on health inequalities allows us to see the lifelong impact of structural inequality

● Safina Islam

has a background in biomedical science and health inequalities and is now the Head of the Ahmed Iqbal Ullah RACE Centre and Education Trust

● David Regan

is the Director of Public Health for Manchester

● Abigail Brown

wants to bring her experiences as a young Black woman living in Manchester to the Board to help advocate for those 'not in the room'

Making Manchester Fairer Programme Board

Co-Chairs

Cllr Joanna Midgley

Deputy Leader, Manchester City Council

Cllr Thomas Robinson

Executive Member for Healthy Manchester & Social Care, Manchester City Council

● Elaine Unegbu

has brought her experience as a nurse to roles looking at quality outcomes for health & care services & has previously held the position of a non-executive director of the Manchester Health Authority

● Leah Chikamba

lives and works in Manchester and wants to influence inequalities policies

● Jennifer Dootson

is born and bred in Manchester and is a local business owner who wants everyone to have the opportunity to be the best version of themselves

● Mitesh Mistry

brings experience in policy making to improve outcomes for children, young people and families & wants to see changes in how communities access & interact with local services

● Tom Hinchcliffe

is the Deputy Place-Based Lead for Manchester for NHS Greater Manchester Integrated Care